More Fundraising Ideas!

- Start collecting donations – ask family, friends, co-workers, etc.
- Make a button of your pet as a conversation starter. When someone comments on your button, ask if he or she is interested in sponsoring you in the walk for homeless animals.
- Have a bake sale, with the proceeds going towards your sponsorship.
- Place a candy jar on your desk, with donations going towards your sponsorship.
- Wash a dog for donation.
- Place a dog dish on your desk at work, and ask co-workers for donations.
- Ask friends and relatives to pass your donation form around at their bridge clubs, churches, and social events (be sure and attach a photo of your pet.)
- Take a donation form to the bus stop, daycare, or school and ask for donations.
- Take orders and make sack lunches (“doggie bags”) for your co-workers. Your “profit” is donations toward your sponsorship (try the same idea with the daily latte orders for colleagues.)
- Use this event to help teach your children about the importance of supporting worthwhile causes. Every time he or she accomplishes a task (washing dishes, taking out the garbage, cleaning up the room) without a reminder from you, contribute a dollar toward their donations.
- Host a neighborhood party with a donation as a “cover charge.”
- Use your talents! Bake a loaf of bread for every team member raising more than $75 in donations.
